

Docked at Snug Harbor

The flag at the stern blows as Capt. Luther Hall cleans the deck of the boat while docked in Pentwater.

STEVE BEGNOCHE | DAILY NEWS

The wooden boat comes complete with a fireplace and a spacious living area towards the stern of the boat. The 96-foot yacht, which has a home base in Harbor Springs, traveled from Frankfort to Pentwater. Snug Harbor owner Jack Witt said he is holding the marina's entire west wall for the cruising yacht. The vessel is one of a series of four 96-footers designed by renowned naval architect Ted Geary and built at Lake Union Drydocks in Seattle, Wash.

Hundreds stopped by to get a closer look at the 96-foot yacht, this weekend, including these bicyclists who gather to look at the Canim. The current owners of Canim are Martin and Lisa Sutter. The name Canim comes from the Chinook Indian tribe and means Big Chief canoe.

Capt. Hall raises standards after cleaning of the deck is complete.

LIBRARY: Named for Anderson

About 50 people attended the ceremony, including friends, family and former colleagues.

Anderson said having the library named after him meant a lot. He said how much he loves books and reading.

"I'm an insatiable reader," he said. He also told a story of skipping meals while in college and using the money he saved to purchase books.

During his speech he said he'd "begin to die spiritually" if for some reason he was unable to read.

The library is the second wing of a building on campus to be named for a former college president. The first came last week when the administrative wing of the Administrative and Conference Center was named for the college's founding president, Dr. John M. Eaton.

NEWS IN BRIEF

FROM OUR AREA

Soccer signup

Ludington Area Recreation soccer signup is Monday, July 14 from 5 to 7 p.m. at Bryant Field. Any questions, call Janice at 843-6191.

Children's Day at the village

The first of two Children's Days at Historic White Pine Village is Thursday, July 17. Volunteers will help with old-fashioned games such as stilts, marbles, jump rope, hopscotch, and the balance board.

Other activities include face painting, a dress-up trunk, and storytelling. Diane Nasson, schoolmarm for the day, will be in the Marchido School conducting mini school sessions. The Blacksmith Shop features Bill Jenkins working and interpreting his trade. Flint knapper Ray Barrett makes arrowheads and other articles of stone.

Teursi, nationally known and published storyteller of the Ocala Nation, has scheduled storytelling throughout the day. All of these sessions are based on ancient Native American traditions following customs thousands of years old.

The admission price for this event is $9 for adults, $5 for children (6-17; 5 years old and younger are free), and $24 for the family (parents and children 17 and under, or grandparents and grandchildren 17 and under).

Children's museum special programs.

Sandcastles Children's Museum will feature "Thrilling Thursday" at 10 a.m. with a different presentation each week. This week's feature is sea lampreys as found in Lake Michigan.

Family night is Wednesday at the museum. It is open until 7:30 p.m. This week is big puzzle and popcorn night.

The children's museum's "Woodland Theme" features a Pere Marquette River water table, tree house, art center, infant center and more. Sandcastles is at 408 S. James St., and is open Tuesdays-Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. (except on Wednesdays when it is open until 7:30 p.m.); admission cost is $3 per person.

Poetry discussion at library

Spend some quality time with

American poets T.S. Eliot, Robert Frost, Walt Whitman, and some American women poets as well. Former English teacher Merrill Stuit will guide readers on a journey of discovery through the works of these great authors. This free class is scheduled for Wednesday nights, 7 to 9 p.m., July 16 - Frost, July 23 - Whitman and Eliot, and July 30 - American women, at the Ludington Library, 217 E. Ludington Ave.

Fish fry at White Pine Village

The annual fish fry at Historic White Pine Village is scheduled for Tuesday from 4 to 7 p.m. Alaskan whitefish, baked beans, coleslaw, rolls, lemonade, and coffee will be served. The all-you-can-eat price is $11 for those 12 and older; $7 for those 6 to 12; and no charge for those 5 and under. Karl Reeds of North Country Café, downtown Scottville, will donate his time and talents for the fish fry. Additional volunteers will serve the food. Inside seating will be provided for a large number of people, so the event will proceed rain or shine. All buildings will be open during the evening and the price of the meal is the only charge for admittance into the village.

OCOIA dinner

PENTWATER — The Oceana County Council on Aging and Nutritional Services will present the monthly Friends & Family dinner at 6 p.m. Thursday, July 17 at the Pentwater Friendship Center, 310 N. Rush St.

This month's menu is dill-glazed salmon fillet, broccoli and cheddar stuffed chicken breast, California medley, parsley potatoes, fresh fruit, salad bar and dinner rolls. Dessert will be Boston cream pie.

The dinner is open to the public; the cost is $5 for those over 60 years of age, and $8 for others. Seating is limited; call 869-7901 for reservations.

Millage forum in Hamlin

HAMLIN TWP. — Hamlin Township hosts a public forum on the proposed Public Transportation Service Millage on Tuesday, July 15 at 7 p.m. at the Hamlin Township Hall. Hamlin Twp. Board of Trustees along with the LTMA will be available to answer questions.
